The Stella Polare Expedition Makes a New Farthest North.

THE DUKE OF ABRUZZI'S TRIP.

He Left Christiana June 12th, 1899. in the Steam Brigantine Stella Polare Supplied With Complete Equipment.

CHRISTIANA, September --- A telegram from Tromsoc, Norway, in reporting the return of the Stella Polare, with the Duke of Abruzzi's arctic expedition on board, says the Stella Polare reached a point in latitude $6.23 north, thus penetrating further north than Dr. Nansen's record. The Stella Polare remained fast in the fce for eleven months. The pressure stove in her sides, making a hole fifteen inches In brencth. Her machinery was also damaged.

The members of the expedition suffered

The members of the expedition suffered many hardships, and were compelled to cal sledge dogs. A Norwelgan engineer and two Italians, members of the expedition, perished.

Dr. Nansen, who returned from his expedition to the Arctic region, August, 1896, reported that he left his vessel, the Fram, March 14th, 1835, in 84 degrees north latitude, and traversed the Polar sea to a point 85 degrees fourteen minutes north, situated north of the New Siberian region. This was a point four degrees farther north than any previous explorer had north than any previous explorer had

Prince Luigiandeo, of Savoy-Aosta, Duke of Abruzzi, left Christiana June 12, 1893, in the steam brigantine Stella Polare, formerly the Jason, laden with 350 tons of coal and 250 tons of provisions, etc., of coal and 250 tons of provisions, etc., including 1.500 packages each containing 25 kilegrams of matter and formed in such a way as to be easily carried on the arm or shoulder of a single person. These were divided into four categories, food, clothing, and equipments, scientific instruments and useful but not indespensible articles. The members of the expedition, in addition to the Duke himself, were the Cavalir, Umbota, Carali, a captain in the Umbote Cagni, a captain in the Royal Italian navy; Count Quirini, a naval Heutenant; Dr. Cavalli-Molinalli, two ablebodied seamen of the Italian navy, Glaco-mo Cardenti and Simme Camepasi, four mountain guides, Guiseppe Petigaux, Alesse Gennolliet, Felico Ollere and Michelo Savoye: ten Norwegian sallors and one Esquimaux for the management of the dogs of which there were 120. The latter were fed on pemmican, made of horse meat and flour.

All the members of the expedition were supplied with an Esquimaux equipment for the Polar seas, and the collection of scientific production of scientific productions are seasons. tific instruments and apparatus was quite THE PLAN.

The Duke's plan to reach the North Pole was exactly opposed to that adopted by Nansen. The latter attempted to approach the Pole by the longest route and with his ship, either by the open sea or letting himself drift in the ice, trusting to the strength of the Fram to withstand the tremendous strain. The Duke of Abruzzi planned o make only a limited use of the planned o make only a limited use of the Stella Polare, and to push on in as straight a line as possible over the ice with sleds after leaving the ship. The Stella Polare carried twenty sleds, each weighing 481-2 pounds, and every sled was to carry eight numinum boxes packed with stores and cance. The runners of the sled were inod with Britannia metal and had protective removal wooden soles. Forty pairs of skates and forty pairs of snow those were also carried by the expedition, which had provision for five years.

The Duke of Abruzzi is a son of Amedo, the late King Humbert's brother, who was once King of Spain. The Duke was born in Madrid while his father still reigned there.

LONDON. Selft. 7-3:30 A. M.—Germany's polite refusal to withdraw from Pekin is commented upon with keen satisfaction in London, and the hope is expressed here that Lord Salisbury will show similar firmness.

The British reply has not yet been formulated. Lord Salisbury desires to consult his colleagues, and has notified the Foreign Office of his intention to return to London from the Continent early next week.

There is doubt, however, that Germany's reply is the outcome of the discussion carried on during the last few days between the European Cabinets, and that the compromise policy of maintaining the occupation of the capital, but withdrawing the greater part of the troops to Tien Tsin, will be found to have mot general concurrence.

growing dearer; that under a gold stand-ard it was bound to continue to grow scarcer. Well, as a matter of fact, and thanks to our prosperity, there is more money in circulation per capita in the United States to-day than ever before in the history of the country. On July 151 the history of the country. On July 1st last the circulation per capita was $26.50, an increase in circulation of $5.40 for every man, woman and child in the country, as compared with what it was on July 1st. 1898. So Mr. Bryan's prophecy has been as wide of the mark in this instance, as in every other.

It was on Sentember 2th among other It was on September 21th, among other occasions, that he dwelt upon his doctrine that wheat and silver went up or down together and prophesied as follows: "An American dollar will buy two Mexican dollars, and also about two bushels of dollars, and also about two bushels of wheat at the same time. There was a time when an American dollar would buy only one Mexican dollar, and then an American dollar would buy only one bushel of wheat. If the time ever comes when an American dollar will buy three Mexican dollars, then it will buy three bushels of wheat." But, unfortunately wheat. But, unfortunately, since then we have on several occasions had dollar wheat, and, on the whole, wheat has risen, while silver has continued to rell. At present one of our dollars will purchase more than two Mexican dollars; but it will only purchase a bushel and a quarter of wheat. Of course, as any child who ter of wheat. Of course, as any think what studied the subject know, the price of wheat and the price of silver do not bear the slightest relation to one another. Now, when utterances such as I have quoted, represent the fine flower of a quoted, represent the silver what is best quoted, represent the fine flower of a statesman's thought, as to what is best for the country, from an economical and financial standpoint, the country is itself to blame if it invites disaster by giving him a chance to put his theories into effect. Remember that all these statements. I have quoted were made statements I have quoted were made absolutely without qualification. Our opponents are as cock-sure about the gold dol-lar being a "robber" dollar four years ago as they are about what they are pleased to term "militarism and imperialism" at the present day, and their utterances mean no more now than they meant then.

IMPERIALISM A SHADOW.

I have shown you how little Mr. Bryan's utterances in the past have squared with the facts, whether he was dealing with finance or whether he was dealing with patriotism, and it is exactly as true to-day patriotism, and it is exactly when he and the makers of the Kansas City platform talk of imperialism or militarism. One reason that makes it difficuit to seriously argue either question is that so far as I know there is no man in the United States who believes in either imperialism or militarism. They are pure phantoms of an even more shadowy and intancible quality than the iniquitous "rob-ber gold dollar" which disturbed Mr. Bryan o much four years ago. The regular arm s not nearly as numerous, relatively to the whole population, as is the New York ice force relatively to the population New York: and it is literally as absurd predicate militarism or imperialism on n the number of policemen a menace to rsonal liberty. There is no more chance of a draft to fill one body than to fill the other, and there is even less chance in the case of the army, that it will be d against our freedom. it is with imperialism. IMPERIALISM A SHADOW.

50 It is with imperalism. There is not the least little danger of imperialism and there is not a dividing line of any kind to be drawn between our methods of expan-sion in 1898 and 1839 and the methods of son in 1888 and 1889 and the includes of expansion under which we acquired Michigan, Hilnois, Florida, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Oregon, California, Hawaii sola, Missouri, Oregon, Camothal, Tawar, and Alaska. Br. Bryan has recently spoken of us as having nurchased the Philoppines at $2.50 a head, treating it as analogous to buying slaves at $1.00 a head. It seems impossible that such a statement could be made unless as a jest. Mr. Bryan must know that the Philippines were paid for precisely unless as a jest. Ar. Bryan must know that the Philippines were paid for precisely as Flerida, Louisiana, California and Alaska were paid for.

CONSENT OF GOVERNED.

Mr. Bryan and his associates cannot say

Bryan's fellow citizens, most of them Bryan's tellow cluzels, inset of chamborn as free as he was born. If our opponents are sincere they must necessarily denounce what has been done in North Carolina with even more bitterness than they have shown in denouncing what has

they have shown in denouncing what has been done in the Philippines.

The policy of expansion is America's historic policy. We have annexed the Philippines exactly as we have annexed Hawail, New Mexico and Alaska. They are now part of American territory, and we have no more right to give them up than we have the right to restore Hawail to the Kanaka Queen or to abandon Alaska to the Esquimaux. There is not a particle of difference between the cases. We cannot go back, first for the sake of the islands themselves and next for the sake of our own honor. The men who sake of our own honor. The men who are making speeches on the unrighteousness of our expanding in the Philippines might, with as much justification, incite the Sloux and the Apache tribes to outthe Sloux and the Apache tribes to out-break against us, on the ground that we have no right to retain South Dakota or. Arizona. The policy of the Kansas City platform is a policy of economic disaster and financial dishonor at home and of unworthy shrinking from duty abroad; and we appeal to all honest, far-seeing, brave and patriotic men. North or South. East or West, to stand with us now against the men who would bring such abuse and misery upon our country, and to support us as we urhold the cause of honesty and of industrial well-being at home and the honor of the American flag in the face of all the people of the earth.

grounds. The crowd was large and the enthusiasm manifested upon the appearance of the candidate was regarded as an excellent indication of the favor in which he is held in the community.

The train was an hour late, but the crowd awalted Mr. Bryan's arrival with patience and good will. The town was in holiday attire. The accommodations at Clarksburg were poor, and the meeting badly managed. There were no press ac-commodations and the representatives of the newspapers occupied seats on the commodations and the representatives of the newspapers occupied seats on the ground and wrote upon their knees.

The meeting was held in Haymont Grove near the Fair Grounds. The crowd faced Mr. Bryan from a high hillside fronting speaker's stand, located at the foot of the bill. The community has a ten-dency towards Republicanism, and Mr. Bryan's speech was an appeal to Repub licans to investigate party questims.

The meeting closed a few minutes past twelve o'clock and Mr. Bryan left shortly afterwards for Parkersburg.
